Crackdown on prenatal sex determination tests

Task Force to check illegal practice; DC Dr. K.V. Rajendra, MP Pratap Simmha ask officers to be vigilant

MP Pratap Simmha, who chaired DISHA meeting at ZP Office premises in city this morning, seen with DC Dr. K.V. Rajendra and ZP CEO K.M. Gayathri.

Mysuru, Nov. 28 (BLU& BCT)- Tightening the noose around those involved in conducting illegal sex determination tests, the District Administration, the Mysuru City Corporation and the office of the District Health Officer will conduct thorough inspections of ultrasound machines, records, doctors' names and registrations, trade licences and past records of all clinics, hospitals and diagnostic centres. These inspections will span from the village level to the city level.

This decision comes after a nine-member gang including two doctors were arrested in Mysuru, Mandya and Bengaluru by Byappanahalli Police of Bengaluru uncovering a major sex determination racket.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

In August 2023, the Karnataka government issued a notification making it mandatory for old vehicles to sport High Security Registration Plates (HSRP) before November 17. Opposing the notification, the HSRP Manufacturers Association had alleged that the government was favouring only four vendors as opposed to 20 recognised by the Centre. After hearing a petition by the Association, a single bench of the High Court had directed the State government to formulate a new scheme within 15 days.

As opposed to the existing number plates, HSRPs have a number of security features which act as a deterrent to theft as well as misuse of use of vehicles for illegal activities. The plate, made of aluminium, has several identifiable features and is fixed onto a vehicle with non-reusable snap-on locks. The HSRP is issued only after a vehicle is digitally registered. The HSRP has a blue-coloured chromium-based hologram of the Ashoka Chakra and a 10-digit Permanent Identification Number (PIN), which is unique to that particular vehicle. This makes it impossible to use the same number on more than one vehicle.

With the issue hanging fire for long, fewer than four lakh of the over two crore vehicles in the State have been fitted with HSRP. The government, which has already once postponed the meeting of stakeholders as directed by the court, should ensure that there is no further delay. Needless to say, the policy should be fair to all stakeholders. HSRPs are not only in the interest of vehicle owners, but will also help the government prevent misuse of vehicles for unlawful purposes and detect crimes as well as curb evasion of taxes by commercial players.

This restaurant offers snake meat pizza

Hong Kong: Pizza Hut in Hong Kong has rolled out a completely new and unheard topping that may leave you stunned. It's snake meat.

The American company tied up with a restaurant named Ser Wong Fun - over 100 years old - in Hong Kong to create this unique dish. Shredded snake meat, black mushrooms and Chinese dried ham are the toppings for this offbeat nine-inch pizza, which will come with abalone sauce base instead of the traditional tomato base. The snake pizza was on sale until Nov. 22, reported the outlet.

"Paired with cheese and diced chicken, the snake meat becomes richer in taste. Combined with pizza, it marks a breakthrough from the conventional concept of what maintaining good health means while challenging one's taste buds," said Pizza Hut Hong Kong in a statement.

Puking bird wins bird of the century title

Wellington: The puteketeke, a bird that pukes, grunts, growls and has bizarre mating rituals, won New Zealand's bird of the century title in a competition where American-British comedian John Oliver's involvement has ruffled some local feathers.

The Bird of the Year competition - billed Bird of the Century in 2023 to celebrate environmental organisation Forest & Bird's centenary - is an annual event where people vote on their favourite New Zealand bird.

The puteketeke eats its own feathers to line its stomach and then vomits to expel parasites, makes grunting and growling sounds, and engages in mating dances such as the "weed dance" where the birds offers each other water weed and the "ghostly penguin" where they rise chest to chest while walking on water.

Vehicle parking on footpath: Will Traffic Cops intervene?

Sir,

This is to draw the attention of the authorities concerned towards parking of vehicles on footpaths on the busy Ashoka Road, causing significant obstructions to pedestrian traffic.

This persistent problem not only violates traffic regulations but also poses a severe threat to public safety. The obstruction of footpaths forces pedestrians, including children and the elderly, onto the roadways, leading to potential accidents and risks to their well-being.

I request the Mysuru City Traffic Police to intervene and address this issue promptly. Increased enforcement or stricter monitoring of these areas could significantly reduce the problem and ensure the safety and convenience of pedestrians.

Tiger that killed woman at Bandipur fringes captured

10-year-old male tiger, U-2371, shifted to Chamundi Animal Conservation, Rescue and Rehabilitation Centre in Mysuru

Mysuru, Nov. 28 (MTY&BCT)- The day and night operation that began on Nov. 25 to capture the elusive tiger that had killed 49-year-old Rathnamma near Balluruhundi village in the Hediyala Range of the Bandipur Tiger Reserve in Nanjangud Taluk, finally bore fruits at 3.30 am today when the big cat was trapped in an area filled with thick forest, shrubs and bushes. The news of the tiger's capture has brought relief to local villagers.

Rathnamma

Bandipur Tiger Reserve Director P. Ramesh Kumar confirmed to Star of Mysore that the 10-year-old male tiger, identified as U-2371, has been shifted to Chamundi Animal Conservation, Rescue and Rehabilitation Centre of the Mysuru Zoo in Koorgalli village, where it is reported to be in good health. Doctors have been asked to check if there are any internal injuries and do all the routine checks including blood test.

The tiger had taken shelter on the fringes of the Bandipur Reserve as the core areas have been occupied by territorial felines. This particular tiger was 10 years old and was not in a position to hunt and defend itself from the territorial tigers. As such, it had taken refuge in the forest fringes preying on cattle, wild boars and it also attacked Rathnamma, an easy prey, Ramesh Kumar said.

Dart fired at 8.45 pm

The massive operation was initiated by a team of over 200 personnel including tribals living in hamlets nearby. The dart was fired by Dr. Mirza Wasim at 8.45 pm and the tiger was put in the cage at 3.30 am. The teams had intensified their efforts as the tiger had killed one cattle at Kaalanamunti and another at Kallaare Kandi on Sunday, two kilometres from the location where it had attacked Rathnamma.

A camera trap captured an image of the tiger near Kallaare Kandi, feeding on the flesh of cattle at 6.45 pm yesterday. The personnel were equipped with a GSM Camera that provided the live movements of the tiger as it approached to eat the carcass of the cow.

Along with Dr. Mirza Wasim from Bandipur Tiger Reserve, Dr. Pradeep from Kali Tiger Reserve had concealed themselves in a cage near the Kallaare Kandi area, bordering the Hediyala Range close to Balluruhundi village.

The team employed a thermal drone to monitor the tiger's movements and set up 55 camera traps to identify and track its activities. Additionally, three elephants — Rohit, Parthasarathy, and Hiranya — were utilised to navigate terrains inaccessible by vehicles.

Distinctive stripe pattern

The tiger was identified as U-2371 based on its distinctive stripe pattern matched with the Forest Department's tiger database. "In addition, we will conduct DNA analysis using strands of the tiger's hair recovered from the site where Rathnamma was killed to scientifically confirm its identity," Ramesh Kumar said.

"Capturing the tiger posed various challenges, as it had been frequently spotted near the village before retreating into the jungle. Furthermore, the tiger had killed two cows within 24 hours near Balluruhundi and we had detected this with camera trap images," he added.

"In response to the tiger's movements, we strategically positioned cages near the cattle kill, concealing them with vegetation. Veterinarians Dr. Wasim Mirza and Dr. Pradeep positioned themselves inside one of the cages, prepared to tranquillise the tiger on Monday evening. However, as the tiger did not appear, the decision was made to wait until dawn, with the veterinarians remaining in the cage. Around 8.45 pm, the team witnessed the tiger moving cautiously toward the cattle kill from the camouflaged cage. Dr. Mirza successfully fired the dart and the big cat ran away from the spot. Later, the tranquilliser took effect, our personnel swiftly surrounded the tiger, placed it in a net, and transferred it to a cage," Ramesh Kumar added.

K.R. Narayan, Range Forest Officer (RFO) of Hediyala, along with ACF Paramesh from Hediyala Sub-Division, actively participated in the operation that was held under the supervision of Dr. Malathi Priya, Chief Conservator of Forest (CCF) for Mysuru Circle.

Co-passenger offers sedative-laced coffee to elderly woman and loots her

Mysuru, Nov. 28- An elderly woman, travelling in a bus from Bengaluru to Mysuru, lost her gold ornaments after drinking coffee laced with sedatives which was offered to her by a co-passenger.

The elderly woman, who lost her jewellery, is 71-year-old Ambujakshamma, a resident of Siddarthanagar in city.

On Nov. 25 at about 1.30 pm, Ambujakshamma came to the Satellite Bus Stand in Bengaluru to catch a bus to Mysuru.

As there was rush at the ticket counter, a man offered her to get her a ticket and took money from her. After purchasing tickets for the elderly woman and himself, the man, boarded the bus and also got a seat for Ambujakshamma and sat next to her in the bus.

When the bus departed from the bus stand, the man told the elderly woman not to wear gold jewellery while travelling following which Ambujakshamma removed her 65 gram gold mangalya chain and kept it in her bag but was unable to remove the gold bangles she was wearing.

Meanwhile, when the bus stopped in the middle of the journey, the man alighted from the bus and came back with two cups of coffee and offered one cup to the elderly woman. When Ambujakshamma drank the coffee, she reportedly fell unconscious.

When the bus arrived at the Sub-Urban Bus Stand at about 4.45 pm, Ambujakshamma's grandson Nilesh, who was there to pick her up, saw her unconscious on the seat and rushed her to a private hospital, where the elderly woman regained conscious the next day.

When she checked her bag, she found the 65 gram gold mangalya chain and her 11 gram gold bangle she was wearing missing.

The co-passenger had told her that he was from Chamarajanagar and the elderly woman lodged a complaint against the man with Lashkar Police, who have registered a case and are investigating.

It may be recalled that recently an elderly man, who arrived from Bengaluru and alighted at the Sub-Urban Bus Stand in city, was taken to a hotel in the bus stand by his co-passenger and was offered a cup of coffee.

The elderly man after drinking the coffee fell unconscious in the hotel and the co-passenger had decamped with the gold ornaments.

A member of the public had admitted the elderly man to a hospital where he regained conscious after two days and it was only then the elderly man came to know that he was looted.

It looks like miscreants are targeting elderly people wearing gold jewellery who are travelling alone from Bengaluru to Mysuru and looting them.

Council tenure over...

Silence rules MCC corridor

Tenure of previous Council ended on Nov. 16; Regional Comr. Dr. G.C. Prakash takes over as Administrator

Mysuru, Nov. 28 (BLU&BS)- Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) main office located in the Central Business District (CBD) on New Sayyaji Rao Road here that was bustling with hectic activities till 12 days ago (Nov. 16), now looks deserted, resembling a 'Silent Zone.'

The five-year tenure of Corporators representing 65 Wards here ended on the aforementioned date and the bureaucracy has taken over the reins with the State Government appointing Regional Commissioner (RC) of Mysuru Division Dr. G.C. Prakash as the Administrator of MCC.

Earlier, the Corporators were acting like a bridge between the people of their respective Ward and Officers in reaching the grievances to the latter and finding out solutions. Now, in the absence of elected representatives, the people who are not aware about change in the administrative machinery are confused over whom to approach to redress their grievances.

Starting from Mayor to Chairmen/ Chairperson of MCC Standing Committees and Corporators were getting the works done over a phone call, with the communication made easy in the recent years. However, in the case of key matters, they (Corporators) had to physically visit the MCC to take a decision.

They were even available to people at the MCC office from morning till evening hours. With their tenure over, the Corporators have turned their back on MCC office, with the corridors of the heritage structure hardly having any visitors.

The grievance holders are finding it difficult during any issues related to drinking water supply, underground drainage (UGD), streetlights, park among several others, with barely any information about whom to complain. They are not even aware about the officers cell phone number.

Though Regional Commissioner has taken over the mantle of administration at MCC, when it comes to development works of the city, MCC Council comprising Corporators is the supreme decision making authority. With no hint over MCC elections, the developmental works will come to a standstill at least till the new Council comes into existence.

Immediate past Mayor Shivakumar, whose tenure coincided with the end of tenure of Council, said: "Whenever there were issues bothering people, we were receiving the complaints and getting them redressed through Officers. Now, in the reverse situation, people are finding themselves in a fix. There was a cry for drinking water at Kuvempunagar, but the people had to struggle a while with no information about competent authorities. According to prevailing system, elections to MCC should have been conducted before the end of the Council's term on Nov. 16 and the new Council should have been sworn-in. But, the Government has flouted all the norms without conducting the elections. The elections should be held at the earliest."

Another former Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath said: "We were accessible to people, by residing at the respective Ward. The election should be conducted at the earliest to restore the power of elected representatives."

Former Corporator SBM Manju

said: "Be it any issues related to drinking water, UGD, streetlights, horticulture, health, engineering section, the Corporators will be having information about the Officers concerned. We were also quick in redressing the grievances."

MCC Commissioner Ashaad-Ur-Rahman Shariff said: "Regional Commissioner Dr. G.C. Prakash has already held a meeting and issued directions to respond to the complaints of people. Barring those matters falling under the purview of the MCC Council, RC is calling the shots with regard to other major matters. The people can complain to MCC Control Room to air their grievances."

MP unveils statue of Vishwajnani Dr. B.R. Ambedkar at Kuvempunagar

Mysuru, Nov. 28 (TRR)- To commemorate Constitution Day, a statue of Vishwajnani Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, the Architect of the Indian Constitution, was unveiled at a place opposite Ashokapuram Police Station on Adichunchanagiri Road in Kuvempunagar here recently. The function was organised by Bhim Balaga.

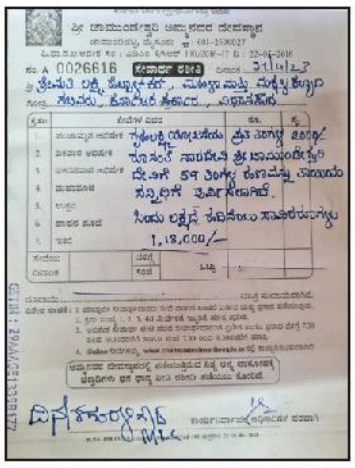
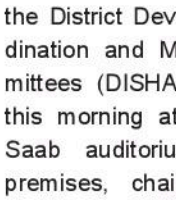
Minister Lakshmi Hebbalkar offers Rs. 1.18 lakh

'Gruha Lakshmi' aid to Goddess Chamundeshwari!





Lakshmi

Mysuru, Nov. 28 (BLU&BS)- Even as several lakhs of women among total 1.17 crore, who have enrolled for Rs. 2,000 monthly financial assi-stance given to women heads of the households under 'Gruha Lakshmi' scheme of the State Government are still waiting for their share of benefit, Goddess Chamundeshwari, the presiding deity of Mysuru, has received the benefit in one go for 59 months, albeit in the form of an offering.

Minister for Women and Child Development Lakshmi Hebbalkar has made an offering of Rs. 1.18 lakh (Rs. 2,000 for each of 59 months) to Goddess Chamundeshwari Temple atop Chamundi Hill on Nov. 27.

Congress MLC Dinesh Gooligowda from Mandya handed over the cheque for the amount to the temple authorities, on behalf of Hebbalkar, a copy of receipt of which has been shared on social media.

The Minister has stated, "When the scheme was launched on Aug. 30 in Mysuru, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah, Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar and myself had offered the first instalment of Rs. 2,000 to the Goddess during our visit to the temple. Following this, MLC Gooligowda had written to both the CM and the Dy.CM to take action on offering the amount to the Goddess every month. Accordingly, I have made the offering from my pocket, for the remaining period of 59 months to the Goddess in single payment."

Prior to Assembly polls, Siddharamaiah, D.K. Shivakumar and others had made a vow before Chamundeshwari, by keeping five pre-poll guarantee scheme cards at the altar including Gruha Lakshmi, to bring the party to power.

Trapped tunnel workers three metres away from rescue party

Uttarkashi, Nov. 28 (Agencies)- With just three metres left to achieve a breakthrough in digging through the rubble of the Silkyara tunnel that partially collapsed on Nov. 12, preparations have been made to rush 41 trapped workers to hospital for immediate medical care.

A separate ward comprising 41 oxygen-supported beds have been readied at the Community Health Centre in Chinyalisaur, about 30 km from Silkyara, for the treatment of rescued workers. The road outside the tunnel, which became uneven due to regular movement of heavy vehicles over the past fortnight is being repaired and a fresh layer of soil laid for the smooth movement of ambulances.

A team of 24 seasoned "rat-hole mining" experts are involved in the manual drilling process and excavate a narrow passageway toward the trapped workers. This time-consuming task will involve removing debris and creating a safe route for the rescue operation. The workers are just three metres away from the rescue team.

Pipes have been inserted up to 52 metres through the rubble at Silkyara tunnel, Uttarakhand Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami said this morning even as efforts to rescue the 41 workers trapped there continued for 17th consecutive day. The break-through point is 57 metres, he told reporters in Silkyara. Rescuers need to dig through around 10 metres of rubble deploying rat-hole mining technique to bring out the workers. Similar drilling was earlier carried out by a huge auger machine that got stuck in the rubble on Friday at around 47 metres. A skilled team of workers began removing the muck by hand using the rat-hole mining technique on Monday while 800-mm diameter pipes were being pushed through the rubble by an auger machine.

"Pipe has gone in up to 52 metres. Earlier, it was at 51 metres. It was pushed one metre further in my presence. It will be pushed two metres more to 54 metres after which one more pipe will be laid," Dhami said.

Crackdown on sex determination tests

The racket flourished at the now shut Mathaa Hospital at Udayagiri and Ayurvedic Piles Daycare Centre on Rajkumar Road. During interrogation, the accused admitted to aborting approximately 900 foetuses over the span of two years.

The issue came up during the District Development Coordination and Monitoring Committees (DISHA) meeting held this morning at Abdul Nazeer Saab auditorium, ZP Office premises, chaired by Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simmha.

A District-level Task Force will be constituted to put an end to the illegal and unethical practice and the Task Force will have control over District, Taluk and Gram Panchayat-level teams. In the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) limits, a team of MCC officials, Police and the District Health Officer will be constituted.

Check for unregistered ultrasonography

"Inspections of such centres across Mysuru and prosecution of those found to be violating the ban on sex determination tests has to be started immediately. Check if there are unregistered ultrasonography (machines that produce images of what is inside the body) and seize them in case of violations. Also check the records of ultrasounds done or forms that have been filled up before the test is taken," Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. K.V. Rajendra told the officers.

The DC highlighted the Pre-Conception and Pre-Natal Diagnostic Techniques (PCPNDT) Act, often known as the Prohibition of Sex Selection Act. According to the Act, it is forbidden to employ any method to determine a foetus' gender after conception. This was put into effect to stop the widespread practice of abortion of female foetuses in India, he noted. As per PCPNDT Act, any person found guilty can be imprisoned for five years and a financial penalty of Rs. 1 lakh can be imposed.

Dr. Rajendra said that there has to be a mechanism in place wherein the Health Department and the Police conduct joint raids in suspected centres. Also, at the village level, Primary Health Centres (PHCs) are a major source of information on such centres. The staff at the PHC can track such centres and report to the higher authorities in the Health Department to curb this menace, he added.

Cancellation of licences

The DC called for renewed focus on areas where the illegal foetal sex determination was prevalent as indicated in the poor sex ratio at birth. He also instructed the respective departments to issue notices to all scan centres warning them against carrying out ultrasound without the mandatory registration numbers. The ultrasound centres must be warned of cancellation of licences for any violation of the instructions.

While inspecting the scanning centres and hospitals, the teams must check registration of the machine, whose name it was procured, its model, date of procurement, any repairs, if previous machines have been discarded or given to scrap dealers, full data of patients tested and records provided.

Zilla Panchayat CEO K.M. Gayathri, MCC Commissioner Ashaad-ur-Rahman Shariff, District Health Officer (DHO) Dr. P.C. Kumaraswamy and other officers attended the meeting.

High Court stays DHO's notice issued to Aadithya Hospital

Ordering the stay of the notice, the High Court has said, "The notice issued under sub-section 5 of Section 15 of the KPME Act mandates that no order shall be passed without affording an opportunity of being heard. Though the impugned notice is not an order, the notice itself concludes the proceedings. Prima facie, it is in violation of sub-section 5 of Section 15 of the KPME Act," the Court observed. Staying the DHO's notice, the Court has listed the matter to 1.12.2023.

Addressing a press conference at Pathrakarthara Bhavan this morning, Dr. Chandrashekar said that there were certain vested interests who were campaigning against the Hospital and were indulging in malicious publicity. "We received the DHO's notice on Nov. 23 and now the High Court has stayed it. But there has been a propaganda in social media and certain websites that Aadithya Adhikari Hospital has been closed," he said.

People who are defaming the Hospital have caused much inconvenience to the patients and they are confused. "We want to make it clear that the Hospital is fully operational and we have the trust of people. We are questioning how certain people can claim about Hospital closure. We have received the notice and appropriate action is being taken. We will fight the legal battle as we are not at fault," Dr. Chandrashekar added.

"We have been targeted by certain vested interests for over five years and we are battling them relentlessly. Now they have misinformed that the Hospital has been closed or locked. We have been badly hit by negative and false publicity and we make this clear that the Aadithya Hospital is not closed and we will not allow it to close," he said.

Dr. Archana and Hospital Manager Gopal Nayaka were present at the press meet.

Youth Wing of Mysuru Kodava Samaja inaugurated

The office-bearers and members of Kodava Samaja, Mysuru, seen with the newly harvested paddy crop.

Mysuru, Nov. 28 (MK&BCT)- 'Puthari Namme,' the harvest festival of Kodagu, symbolising the first harvest of the paddy crop, was celebrated in a grand and traditional manner last evening at the Kodava Samaja in Vijayanagar First Stage here.

The festivities showcased a diverse array of Kodava cultural events, eliciting enthusiastic applause from the gathered audience.

Hundreds of Kodava community members including men, women and children had gathered at the Kodava Samaja and took home the paddy crop (kadiru), chanting "Poli Poli Deva" and prayed to Lord Igguthappa and Goddess Cauvery and welcomed the Dhanya Lakshmi to their homes.

The highlight of the event was the cultural performances by young community members who have spent hours and days learning the traditional Kodava dances and songs. Their performance received loud applause from the community members and the boys and girls have been saddled with continuing the tradition of this small community that is facing the onslaught of modernisation.

The performances featured captivating dances like 'Ummathaat', 'Bolakaat', 'Puthari Kolata,' 'Kathiyaat,' 'Baalopaat,' 'Pareyakali' and 'Taalipaat'.

Notably, a new Youth Wing of the Mysuru Kodava Samaja was inaugurated and Katera Vedik Uthaiah has been nominated as its President. The other members of the team will be announced soon.

Commencing with a puja dedicated to the deities Lord Igguthappa and Goddess Cauvery, the festival progressed with a symbolic harvesting of the paddy crop (kadiru) and ceremonial firing into the air.

Kodava men donned their traditional attire of 'kupya-chele,' 'peechekathi,' and 'mande-tuni,' while women adorned themselves in the customary red sarees and 'vasthra.'

As an integral part of the festivities, special 'tambittu' made from fried 'kusubalakki' mixed with ripe banana, was distributed to all the members.

Mysuru Kodava Samaja teams that have won various prizes in hockey matches and other cultural performances at Federation of Kodava Samajas, Balugodu, were honoured.

Mysuru Kodava Samaja President Ponjanda A. Ganapathy, Vice-President Machimada P. Nanaiah, Hon. Secretary Ketolira Ravi Belliappa, Treasurer Ittira Kashiappa, Joint Secretary Ajjikuttira Diana Poovaiah, Kodava Samaja Cultural and Sports Club President Kuttimada D. Muthappa, office-bearers and committee members were present on the occasion.

The harvest festival was also celebrated at Kodagu Gowda Samaja in Vijayanagar Railway Layout, Mysuru.

Simultaneously, 'Puthari Namme' was celebrated in grandeur across Kodagu district yesterday.

The festival commenced with the 'Nere Kattu' performance at Kakkabbe's Paadi Sri Igguthappa Temple at 7.30 pm. Subsequent celebrations were held across Kodagu district.

Though the festival concluded yesterday, the celebrations are set to continue for a week in rural areas of Kodagu and during this extended period, traditional 'Puthari Kolata' will take centre stage, accompanied by various other dance forms at the designated 'Mandh' in villages.

WORD OF THE DAY

Disabuse

Pronunciation: diss-uh-BYOOZ.

Meaning: To disabuse someone of something, such as a belief, is to show or convince them that the belief is incorrect.

Origin: Taken as a product of its parts, one might assume that disabuse means "to not abuse." While the usage has changed over the years, that assumption isn't entirely wrong. We know the verb abuse as a word with various meanings having to do with bad physical or verbal treatment, as well as incorrect or excessive use, but when disabuse first appeared in the 17th century, there was a sense of abuse, now obsolete, that meant "to deceive." Francis Bacon used that meaning, for example, when he wrote in 1605, "You are much abused if you think your virtue can withstand the King's power." The prefix dis- has the sense of undoing the effect of a verb, so it's logical that disabuse means "to undeceive."

THE ODD WORD

Decastich

Ten-line poem.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

The darkest hour

Meaning: The darkest hour is the time when bad events are at their worst and most dispiriting.

Origin: The expression came into widespread use in early 19th century England. However, the usage of the phrase that has more recently become popular originated well before that, in the proverb 'the darkest hour is just before the dawn'. A version of the proverb was recorded by Thomas Fuller in A Pisgah-Sight Of Palestine And The Confines Thereof, 1650: It is always darkest just before the Day dawneth. 'The Darkest Hour' is the title of a 2017 WWII film drama starring Gary Oldman as Winston Churchill. The film alludes to the apparently imminent defeat of the British as their 'darkest hour' and, although this might sound like a Churchillian turn of phrase there is no record of him having coined it in any of his copiously recorded speeches or writings. It was used in a letter to Churchill from Clement Attlee, who became the British Prime Minister shortly before the Japanese surrender in 1945. Attlee gave Churchill due credit as the UK's war leader: "I feel that the probability of the surrender of our last enemy is so great that I must, at once, offer to you, our leader from the darkest hours through so many anxious days, my congratulations on this crowning result of your work."
